VOLUME TWELVE

KEYSER, WEST VIRGINIA - FALL, 1972

Michael Honored By Circle K

Prof. William E. Michael, advisor to the Circle K Club at Potomac State College for the past 20 years, was presented an appreciation plaque during the organization's 20th anniversary celebration in April at the Old Stone House near Burlington.

Guest speaker for the occasion was Cmdr. Ralph W. Smith, '52, U.S. Navy, the first president of Circle K in 1952.

Club; Rev. W. W. Harvey, '31, who made the presentation on behalf of the Kiwanians; Prof. Michael, and Cmdr. Smith. Looking on in the background are Ron Smith, left, president of Circle K for the 1972-73 school year, and Gene Onestinghel, who was president for 1971-72.

Homecoming, Parents Day Scheduled for October 21

Alumni, former students, and friends of the college are reminded to encircle Saturday, October 21, on their calendars as that is the day when Potomac State will stage its combined Homecoming and Parents' Day Celebration.

Dr. Charles Whitehill, who is serving as coordinator of the event, will be assisted by others of the faculty and staff in formulating plans for the various activities.

The tentative schedule for the day calls for: Registration of Parents and Alumni from 10 a.m. until noon; Homecoming Parade, sponsored by Circle K, 1 p.m.; Campus Visitation, Entertainment, and Reception, 2 to 4 p.m.; Social Hour for Alumni, 4:30-5:30 p.m.; Potomac Motel; Alumni Banquet and Business Meeting, 5:30 p.m., Potomac Motel; Homecoming Game, 8 p.m., Stayman Field; Dances, 10 p.m.

The traditional Homecoming Dance will be held in Kelley Armory; however, the Keyser Moose Lodge has indicated that its regular dance will be open to the public and any alumni or former students holding group reunions will be welcome.

A brochure listing the schedule of events and reservation forms for the banquet is being mailed with each Alumni Newsletter. Mrs. Robert T. Coffman, Director of Alumni Affairs, requests that these be returned no later than October 14. At the same time, President Kenneth F. Haines reminds all alumni that annual dues are now payable and it is solely through these funds that the Newsletter is financed. Prompt remittance of these dues would be appreciated.

PLEASE HELP

The Alumni Newsletter depends solely on YOUR dues for its support. In order to meet all of our financial obligations, we must have the support of the alumni. Won't you please remit your alumni dues immediately so that we can plan for the coming year? Just clip the coupon on the back page and send it along with your check.

A number of faculty and staff changes were made at Potomac State College prior to the opening of the fall semester, according to Executive Dean Harold C. Doster.

Replacing the late Prof. Orval J. Anderson as chairman of the English Department is Associate Professor Dudley Gordon who has been on the faculty for a number of years. An addition to the department is Peter L. Paulson, of Bel Air, Cumberland, Md., who will be a reading specialist.

A native of South Charleston, W.Va., Paulson holds both his B.A. and M.A. degrees from West Virginia University where he served as a graduate assistant in English and reading. He is a member of the International Reading Association, the College Reading Association, and Kappa Delta Pi. His parents reside in Ravenswood and his wife, the former Jane Crawford, graduated from Potomac State in 1967. They are members of the Episcopal Church.

Named to succeed the late Prof. Walter Boone as an Assistant Professor of Chemistry is Dr. Robert W. Naylor, of Morgantown, and a native of Trenton, N.J. Dr. Naylor holds a B.A. degree from Rutgers University, attended Seton Hall University, and received his Ph.D. from WVU in May of this year. He was an instructor in chemistry on the Morgantown campus from 1967 to the end of the past school term and for several months in 1971 taught physical science at the Kennedy Youth Center near Morgantown. He has worked previously as a chemist with the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission and as a laboratory assistant for Rohm and Haas.

He is a member of Phi Lambda Upsilon Chemistry Honorary, had NSR traineeship 1967-71, won the DuPont Teaching Award 1969-70-71, is a member of the American Chemical Society, and author of several publications. His mother is deceased but his father still resides in Trenton. Dr. Naylor is married and the father of two children. They attend the Presbyterian Church.

Replacing Prof. Harold W. Allen as an assistant professor of physics is Dr. James R. Champion, of Bridgeport, Conn. He received his B.S. degree

WVU Honors Pendergast, Dr. Atwater

"There are smiles that make you happy..." and these were the kind so evident at the Journalism Alumni Banquet in Morgantown last spring when alumnus Tom Pendergast, '51, and Dr. Elizabeth A. Atwater were presented special awards during the gathering of alumni of the WVU School of Journalism, at Mountainlair.

Pendergast received the P. I. Reed Achievement Award. He has served as writer and news executive with the Associated Press since 1955 in Chicago, New Orleans, St. Louis, Richmond, and Los Angeles. As chief of the bureau, he recently reorganized the L.A. bureau as one of the nine computerized news centers in the U.S.

Dr. Atwater, professor of journalism and speech at Potomac State College, was named West Virginia's Advertising Person of the Year by the P. I. Reed Chapter of Alpha Delta Sigma, professional advertising fraternity. She has provided the WVU School of Journalism with many outstanding students and her encouragement of advertising majors has been a significant part of the current program on the Morgantown campus.

Miss Amanda Stevens, a senior advertising major from Orlando, Fla., made the presentation. She is a former student of Dr. Atwater and served as Pasquino editor (1969-70) while at the college.

Pendergast was editor of the college newspaper during the 1950-51 term. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Pendergast, former Keyser residents now living at Gretna, La.

Two of his three brothers, followed him into journalism, both attending Potomac State, both becoming editors of the Pasquino, and both completing their journalism degrees at WVU. Richard Pendergast, '53 is now in public relations with Pan American Life Insurance in New Orleans. Robert Pendergast, '59, also in public relations, is with Robertshaw Controls Co. in Richmond. The third brother, James, received his journalism education in Louisiana after the family moved there.

Jim, a career army officer, was wounded during his assignment in Vietnam. Capt. Pendergast is now stationed at Fort Sill, Okla., and has been assigned to public information duties.

The three older Pendergast brothers were Dr. Atwater's students, served as Pasquino editors and earned journalism degrees at WVU.

Dr. Atwater, a native of McKeesport, Pa., holds a bachelor's degree from Duquesne University, and a master's and doctorate from the University of Pittsburgh. She came to Potomac State in 1939 and has served the college as director of public relations in addition to her regular teaching responsibilities.

She is a member of Kappa Tau Alpha and Delta Kappa Gamma and holds an award from Theta Sigma Chi, Women's journalism honorary. She is a member of the W.Va. Arts and Humanities Council and is listed in "Who's Who of American Women."

Tetrick was named West Virginia's Advertising Man of the Year in 1971.

Welling, now on the AP staff in Charleston, was elected to a four-year term to the Board of Directors of the WVU Journalism Alumni Association. Effland was elected to the board in 1969.

Approximately 821 Students Register For Fall Term

An anticipated enrollment of 821 full-time students was announced by Executive Dean Harold C. Doster as the Alumni Newsletter went to press. This figure was expected to include about 65 per cent men and 35 per cent women students and marked an increase in the 766 students enrolled last year.

Dr. Doster pointed out that approximately 70 per cent of the students were from West Virginia with the remaining 30 per cent from out-of-state. At press time the enrollment figures included about 520 freshmen and approximately 300 sophomores.

Jaworek, Willhide Retire After Combined 62 Years of Service

Professor Jaworek

Two well-known figures on the Potomac State scene retired this past spring after a combined 62 years of service and were honored at separate social events.

Walter A. Jaworek, associate professor of engineering and mathematics, was guest of honor at a dinner given by his colleagues on April 22 at the Maplehurst Country Club in Frostburg.

Prof. Jaworek, who had been with the college since 1942, retired at the close of the 1971-72 academic year, in June, after 30 years of service.

A native of Warren, R. I., he attended Brown University, received a BS degree in engineering from WVU and pursued graduate studies at the University of Illinois and Bucknell. He taught at Cameron High School for 13 years prior to joining the college staff. During the summers he often worked with Bethlehem Steel Company and Westvaco.

He has been president and secretary-treasurer of the Potomac Chapter, West Virginia Society of Professional Engineers. In the community he has worked with the Mineral County Civil Defense organization, been active with the Keyser Kiwanis Club, and with the Methodist Church. He has also been an active Mason and Shriner. At Potomac State he was adviser for the Engineers Club and for some time coached a tennis team.

DOROTHY (HAMILL) STEPHEN on the death of her mother.

JEANNETTE (SHEPP) HECKMAN on the death of her husband.

Mr. Willhide

He and Mrs. Jaworek have one son, Dr. Walter Gibson Jaworek, a petroleum economist with Marathon Oil Company, Findlay, Ohio.

On May 19 Prof. Jaworek was one of 21 retiring faculty members of WVU to be awarded the honorary title of Professor Emeritus by the West Virginia Board of Regents in recognition of their meritorious service.

Prof. Richard A. Davis presided at the program following dinner, introducing Prof. Leonard G. Withers, president of the Faculty Club, who greeted the guests; Academic Dean James T. Handlan gave a brief talk, "Tennis Anyone?" as a tribute to the honored guest. Executive Dean Harold C. Doster made a gift presentation from the Faculty Club and Prof. Paul F. Iverson gave the invocation.

On April 9 the faculty and the staff of the college met at the Old Homestead in Burlington to honor Albert O. Willhide who retired on June 1 after 32 years as the college chief electrician.

Dr. Charles D. Whitehill was master of ceremonies. Ervin L. Dayton, emeritus professor of economics, gave a brief talk, and Jeff Miller, Mr. Willhide's co-electrician, spoke briefly. Academic Dean Handlan presented a gift from the college staffs and Dr. Doster gave the invocation.

A Keyser native, Mr. Willhide attended Keyser schools and was graduated from Coyne Electrical School in Chicago.

Before joining the college staff in July 1938, he worked at the Keyser Woolen Mill and with

NAMED EDITOR

Darrell Cochran, journalism major from Mathias, has been chosen as the new editor of the campus newspaper, the Pasquino. Last year he served as a photographer for the paper and the yearbook and was a member of Student Government. Miss Samee L. Gee, Trout, will be news editor; Miss Cheryl A. Haines, Slanesville, associate editor; and Steve Harman, Keyser, business manager.

Palmen Manufacturing Company in Akron. From 1943-45 he left the college briefly to help with the war effort at Kelly-Springfield Tire Company in Cumberland.

Mr. and Mrs. Willhide have a daughter, Mrs. John Nassif of Madison, Conn., and one son, Joseph, married, and living at Wellesley, Mass., and teaching at Boston University. They have five grandchildren.

Honor Society Will Observe Its 50th Anniversary

Sigma Phi Omega, ranking campus honor society, will observe its 50th anniversary during the 1972-73 academic year. Founded in the spring of 1923, the organization has honored more than 1100 students with membership during its existence.

Miss Colleen Hannah, sophomore liberal arts major and current president, has announced that the organization's celebration of this event will be held Saturday evening, October 7, at the Potomac Motel. A social hour will be held from 5 to 6 p.m. after which dinner will be served.

The featured speaker will be Dr. Ernest E. Church, former president of Potomac State College, whose years of service (1936-1964) span 28 of the society's 50 years on campus.

Following dinner and the program, those attending will be invited to attend an original drama entitled "The Hill," written by the late Prof. Orval J. Anderson, a past president of Sigma Phi Omega. Proceeds from the play will go into the Orval J. Anderson Memorial Scholarship Fund.

Prof. Harry R. Smith, college business manager and also a member of Sigma Phi Omega, is arranging the production and will provide a reception for Sigma Phi Omega members as well as members of the WVU cast immediately following the play.

Any members of Sigma Phi Omega who did not receive an invitation to this event, may write to Prof. Kenneth F. Haines, society sponsor. Invitations have been mailed to more than 900; however, the society did not know addresses for all former members.

Alumni Figure In Sports Event

Several Programs Of Interest Slated For Fall Season

Several programs of interest are included in the Calendar of Events for the fall season at Potomac State College.

On October 12-13 the campus will be host to the statewide conference for high school guidance counselors while October 14 will mark the beginning of the regional meeting of the Future Homemakers of America.

Another activity which is expected to arouse much interest throughout the state and is expected to be continued on an annual basis is the Coastal Conference All Star Bowl at Stayman Field. This will be a night game and will be comprised of four teams from the south and four teams from the north. Eight boys will be named to play for each of the teams from the south and eight for each northern team.

Send Your Alumni Dues

Article Published In WVU Magazine

Dr. Elizabeth A. Atwater, professor of speech and journalism at Potomac State College and also the director of public relations, had an article published in the spring issue of the West Virginia University magazine which is mailed out to alumni and friends of the state university.

The article pertained to Potomac State's colorful 70-year-history, and its 50th anniversary as a junior college. It was accompanied by several photographs showing various campus scenes.

ARA Providing Food Services At Potomac State

Potomac State College has announced the purchase of services from the American Restaurant Association which began catering meals in the dining hall with the beginning of the 1972-73 term.

Executive Dean Harold C. Doster, in commenting on the ARA as the largest food catering service in the world, said that the organization would provide basically the same food service to the campus as in the past with a few minor revisions. Serving hours for each meal will be longer; at noon a special bar featuring six or eight salads and six or eight sandwiches will be in operation; and that at the meals in the evening unlimited seconds will be served as well as three entrees. The only limit will be on the "hard meat entree." The service will employ all of the full-time staff formerly working in the campus kitchen.

The ARA will provide management services with extensive backup facilities and several special facilities such as baking. It will also sponsor at least nine international or specialty kind of dinners each year as well as approximately 20 "monotony breakers" from time-to-time allowing students to use various ice creams, syrups, and fruit to concoct their own sundaes or other specialities.

The service will have a full-time manager and assistant manager on campus. It will cater all special campus affairs and will provide casual meals for campus visitors at reasonable rates.

Larry E. Wolford Named Winner Of Mauzy Grant

Larry E. Wolford, of Route 1, Augusta, a sophomore majoring in business and commerce, has been awarded the Dean Frank Mauzy Scholarship for the 1972-73 school term.

Established last year by alumnus Sidney Harris of Pittsburgh in memory of his former friend and instructor, the $450 award is given annually to some deserving student. The first recipient was Larry McKenzie who completed his studies at Potomac State last spring.

Wolford, a graduate of Hampshire High School, near Romney, was active in athletics for four years. He plans to continue his studies at West Virginia University.

Alumni Retire At Keyser High

Two Potomac State alumni were among a quartet of teachers at Keyser High School who retired at the end of the 1971-72 school term.

They were Frank Calemine '33, with 35 years of teaching service, and Mrs. Thelma (Donald) Klinestiver, '28, with 30 years of service. They, along with Mrs. Mary Calemine, who had taught for 33 years and Raymond Elliott, with 38 years, were honored at a dinner given in their honor on May 15 at the Vocational-Technical Center. All received gifts of remembrance from the faculty and staff.

Calemine and Mrs. Klinestiver spent their entire careers in Mineral County. He came to Keyser in 1938 and Mrs. Klinestiver has been on the staff at KHS since 1961 after being at the local elementary school since 1954. The remaining years were spent at other county schools.

Moorefield Grad Named Winner Of Scholarship

The freshman recipient of the 1972-73 Alumni Foundation Scholarship is Robert A. Keller II, a graduate of Moorefield High School, who plans to major in agriculture and later transfer to veterinary medicine.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Keller, of Fisher, W. Va., the winner was active in 4-H work for seven years, serving as a member of the West Virginia land Judging Team in 1971 and also as a member of the All-Star Poultry Judging Team. He was a member of the Future Farmers of America, both the Junior and Senior High National Honorary Societies, and was a member of the football, basketball, and baseball teams during his four years in high school.

Keller won the Balfour Award for the highest scholastic average as a sophomore and in 1971 was chosen the Outstanding Teenager of the school.

A member of the Presbyterian Church, he has two brothers, Christopher, and Eric both at home.

Miss Donna Carder, of Oldtown, Md., who won an Alumni Scholarship as a freshman last year, has been granted the award for her sophomore year.

At a recent meeting of the Alumni Foundation Board the grants were increased from $175 to $200 per semester for each of the recipients.

from West Liberty College where he majored in physics with a minor in mathematics and went on to WVU where he received his M.S. and Ph.D. in physics in 1967 and 1970 respectively.

Dr. Champion is the author of numerous publications and special research papers and holds membership in a variety of fraternal and honorary organizations. He previously taught at the University of Bridgeport (Conn.), Fairmont State College, WVU, and the Naval Ordnance Laboratory at White Oak, Md. His wife is a home economics teacher.

Mrs. Beverly Stimmel, who is on a leave of absence, is being replaced by Elwood Layman, of Frostburg, as an assistant professor of commerce. He attended Frostburg State College from 1946-48 and went on to WVU where he received his B.S. degree in 1950. He was awarded his M.A. degree from Columbia University in 1951 and his professional diploma from that institution in 1955. He has done additional graduate work at Wayne State University and the University of Detroit. His undergraduate work was done in business education with a minor in social studies while all of his graduate work was in the field of business education.

He was an associate professor in business education at both Columbia College, Columbia, S.C., and at the University of Detroit. He was formerly employed as Chief Clerk in Statistics, U.S. Civil Service, Washington, D.C., as a secretary and student assistant at WVU, as a secretary at the Julliard School of Music, and secretary at Columbia University.

Named to succeed William Snyder as an instructor in accounting is John C. Stone, of Kingwood, a recent graduate of Wheeling College where he received a B.S. degree in business administration. Mr. Stone plans to marry sometime in the early fall.

An additional staff member will be Ralph E. Collins, of Cumberland, who will be employed as an audio visual technician. A veteran of 20 years teaching in the schools of Maryland, Collins holds a B.S. degree from Frostburg State and a master's degree in education from the University of Maryland.

Wives of Two Former Deans Die Less Than Month Apart

Potomac State alumni will be saddened to learn of the deaths of two devoted women, Mrs. Beatrice (Hall) McKee and Mrs. Margaret (Nelson) Mauzy, who served the college and community faithfully during the years their late husbands were Deans.

Mrs. McKee, who was 76 years of age, died May 30 at Potomac Valley Hospital where she had been a patient for three weeks.

She was the widow of Kirkland S. McKee, who was academic dean and registrar at PSC from 1936 until his death on May 20, 1963.

A native of Boothsville, she was a daughter of the late Sanford and Lona (Kendell) Hall. She was a graduate of WVU with a B.S. degree in home economics, and she had taught for 15 years at Fairmont and Elkins High Schools.

She was a member of the Keyser Presbyterian Church where services were conducted with burial following in the Janes Memorial Cemetery near Fairmont.

Mrs. Mauzy, who was 79 and a retired Public Health Service Payroll Supervisor, died June 17 at the Windsor Estates Convalescent Home in Camdenton, Mo., following a stroke. She has resided in Arlington, Va., until a year ago when she went to reside with her son.

Born at Dry Run, W.Va., she was a daughter of the late Philip Phares and Lucy (Mullenax) Nelson. She attended Shepherd College and Bridgewater College where she was awarded a Bachelor of Accounts Degree and a teacher's certificate. She taught school in Pendleton County for several years and after her marriage in 1919 to Frank Mauzy, taught in Weston schools. In 1922 she moved to Keyser when her husband was appointed Dean of Potomac State College.

Mrs. Mauzy was long active in church, educational, and civic affairs and held membership in numerous organizations.

Survivors include a daughter, Rebecca, Arlington, Va.; a son, Michael P., of Osage Beach, Mo., two sisters, and three grandchildren.

Final rites were conducted at St. Mark's United Methodist Church in Arlington on June 20 with burial the following day at the Cedar Hill Cemetery, Franklin.

John B. (Jack) VanDyke, Jr., formerly Vice President for Development at Salem College. He takes over the duties of this particular job, formerly held by Prof. Helen C. Criner, who will remain Registrar.

Appointed as a successor to Maj. David L. Gannon as an assistant professor of military science is Maj. Preston T. Arnold, who has a B.A. degree from Boston College and has attended Infantry Officers' Advanced Course. Maj. Arnold, who assumed his duties in August, replaces Maj. Gannon who was transferred to Fort Benning, Ga., early this summer for airborne training.

Three new tutor counselors have also been appointed; the positions being filled by Robert N. Johnson, of Huntington and Mrs. Catherine (Smith) Toothman, of Williamson, while another has been accepted by a Potomac State alumna, Mrs. Mary Marcelin (McLaughlin) Lukoski, '65.

Johnson, who is a native of Charleston, attended West Virginia State College and received his A.B. degree from WVU in 1964. In 1970 he received an M.S. degree from Marshall University. His undergraduate work was in psychology and sociology while his graduate work was in biological sciences and general science. He has taught at Wellston High School in Wellston, O., at Gallia Academy High School, Gallipolis, O., and was a former social worker and counselor with the West Virginia Department of Welfare. He is a member of the U.S. Naval Reserve and is married to the former Carol A. Smith.

Mrs. Toothman holds B.S. and M.A. degrees in English from WVU and taught at Lackey High School, Indianhead, Md., 1969-71. During the past year she was student manager of Mobile Home Park at Westover, near Morgantown. Her husband, J. P. Toothman, has been named to the staff of the Developmental Center in Keyser.

Mrs. Lukoski, a native of Fairfax, Va., received both B.A. and M.S. degrees from WVU after transferring there from Potomac State. Her undergraduate work was in psychology while her graduate work was in rehabilitative counselling. She was formerly employed as a social worker in Fairfax County, Va., a police officer in Alexandria, and a rehabilitative counselor with Goodwill Industries in Pittsburgh. Her husband, Martin Lukoski, has been named to the faculty of St. Frances School in Keyser and will also be the new head resident of Davis Hall allowing Coach Cecil Perkins to do additional work in intramurals and in the field of continuing education.

Jack Reynolds, instructor in social sciences, will no longer be resident counselor at Memorial Hall as he is moving into a private home, and as the Newsletter goes to press, no one has yet been named to that vacancy.

There will no longer be a Dean of Women, as such, and Miss Colleen Dean who formerly held that title, will be the new program director for the Student Union and cultural coordinator.

Dr. Elizabeth A. Atwater, professor of speech and journalism, has resigned as head of the Public Relations Department in order to devote more time to her classes. Prof. Kenneth F. Haines has been named to assume these duties on a part-time basis until a permanent replacement is appointed.

Associate Professor William H. Gallier has returned to the history department after being on leave of absence and pursuing his graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania last term and doing additional studies this past summer in Chicago.

As the new term began Robert T. Staggs began his duties as instructor in computer science after being a computer programming analyst last year.

Dr. Doster also announced the appointment of two Keyser residents to custodial positions. William McDonald who has been on the staff for several months has been named custodian of Academy Hall. He previously was employed at the Celanese Corp., Hercules, and Emerson-Pryne. Named to the other vacancy is Clifton Brooks, '69, who recently received his B.S. degree in physical education from WVU. He will do custodial work on the campus and also be an assistant in the physical education department.

Once More for Old Time's Sake

A group of fellows who attended Potomac State in the early thirties had their own reunion on Saturday, April 29, during a dinner party at the Potomac Motel on New Creek Drive. The event, a follow-up to one held last year, was planned by Harold E. Welker, chairman, and A.D. (Swede) Wells, secretary-treasurer.

Alumni from Maryland, West Virginia, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and the District of Columbia were represented. Some who planned to attend had to send regrets at the last minute but, on the other hand, several others who could not remain for dinner at least dropped by to say hello to their classmates.

The group plans to meet again next year and Edwin Jordan, of Keyser, was appointed chairman for 1973.

Back row: Edward Bright, Frank Cross, A. D. Wells, Harold Welker, William Wells, John Purdy, and Bernard Drake.

Army Ordnance Center and School, Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md. He received a comprehensive introduction to the ordnance mission of developing, supplying, and maintaining the Army's combat vehicles as well as extensive training in leadership and other phases of troop command duty.

Navy Commander WILLIAM P. FRANKLIN, '55, formerly of Keyser, assisted in the evacuation and rescue of over 400 persons stranded on roof tops and high ground during the recent flood disaster in Western Pennsylvania. He is attached to Helicopter Anti-Submarine Squadron 15 at the Naval Air Station, Lakehurst, N.J. He has been assigned to continue studies at Air War College, Maxwell AFB, Montgomery, Ala.

ALUMNUS HONORED

The 1972 winner of the William R. McPherson Award, sponsored by the Circle K Club, was Miss Susan Bishop, sophomore speech therapy major, from Keyser. Two other students tied for the runner-up awards: Miss Wanda Hedrick, Harrisonburg, Va., and Gene Onestinghel, Clarksburg. The award is given in memory of McPherson, a former president of the Circle K Club, who graduated from Potomac State in 1959 and lost his life when the vehicle in which he was riding struck a Viet Cong landmine in 1965.
